had played together. On arriving in Puerto Rico they found auntie, as a patron of the local Pro Arte Musica Society, had arranged a concert for them.

Rather than disappoint her, they hastily collected all available music, made many arrangements for two pianos and did some tail practicing to be ready for the event. It proved so successful they decided to embark on a joint career. They made their American debut in New York's Town Hall ten years ago and were launched on a successful career, which was interrupted by the war and their enlistment in the Navy. After four years of service they toured with a Navy enlistment unit which appeared at various debarkation stations, recreation centers, hospitals and later throughout the entire Pacific zone. After their discharge in 1946 they resumed their concert career.

Plans for 1950-51 Campaign
The aim of the 1950-51 season drive is to enroll 1,000 members, the capacity of the Freeport High School auditorium. Mrs. Clement Winter, dinner chairman, has made reservations for 100 workers at the dinner which will mark the opening of the campaign. Gerald Devlin, representative of the Community Concert Service, will address the diners and remain in Freeport all next week to assist the local workers. A 20-minute reel in which famous stars of the concert world have been filmed especially for sound purposes, will be shown. As the campaign ends a week from Saturday night, the books will be closed and no more members can be taken in. Further, no tickets are sold at the box office for these concerts, admission being to members only. An adult membership costs $6, including tax, and a student, $3. Campaign headquarters have been established in the office of the Freeport Federal Savings and Loan Association on West Sunrise Highway, where any desiring to obtain memberships may do so. Mrs. William J. Martin, Jr., is headquarters chairman.

Workers Enthused As Salvation Army Campaign Starts

Confident of Going
Over Top in $6,500
Drive in Month of May

Enthusiasm over the prospects of attaining the $6,500 goal during May was at a high point at the kick-off dinner for the Freeport Salvation Army fund raising campaign in headquarters at 75 Church st. Thursday night. Approximately 125 workers attended. Horace E. DeLisser, campaign chairman, presided, outlined the plans for the drive and introduced the division chairmen.

Senior Major Ernest W. Newton, the local commander, issued his annual report showing the accomplishments of the past year. Among other things he mentioned the youth program, including arts and crafts classes, the Daily Vacation Bible School, outings to Point Lookout and Boy Scouts. He also told of the providing of Christmas baskets for the needy and the Easter baskets, the providing of refreshments for firemen on duty and especially the way in which the corps met the emergency created by the recent disaster in Rockville Centre. It also was emphasized that the money raised during the campaign will be expended right here in Freeport.

Next Season's Artists
To Be Chosen After
Close on Saturday

Approximately 100 workers are conducting their third annual campaign this week in an effort to enroll 1,000 members to the Freeport Community Concert Association before Saturday at 5 P.M. so as to assure at least four concerts to be given during the 1950-1951 season. The drive was gotten under way Monday night at a dinner in the Elks clubhouse for the workers. Announcement was made at that time that if enough memberships were procured, DePaul's Infantry Chorus, of 35 voices, conducted by Leonard De Paul, which local leaders have attempted without success to obtain in the past, would be booked for April 21, 1951.

Harold E. Pearson, the president, presided, after being presented by J. Maynard Wettlaufer, the retiring president. He introduced the officers of the association and Gerald Devlin, the representative of the Community Concert Service which supplies the artists for the communities sponsoring the concerts. He explained the operation of the association.

An Announcement

Following today's issue, control of THE LEADER will pass from my hands to those of Ray E. Clements, for 14 years a resident of this community. It has been a pleasure to have served as editor and publisher since THE LEADER was established as a strictly Freeport newspaper in May 1941, and it is with extreme reluctance that I give up the reins to another.

However, because of the recent death of my wife, who was in many respects a helpmate in the venture, I feel I would like to be relieved of some of the arduous responsibilities of conducting THE LEADER, so I can devote more adequate attention to the rapidly growing printing business of THE LEADER PRESS.

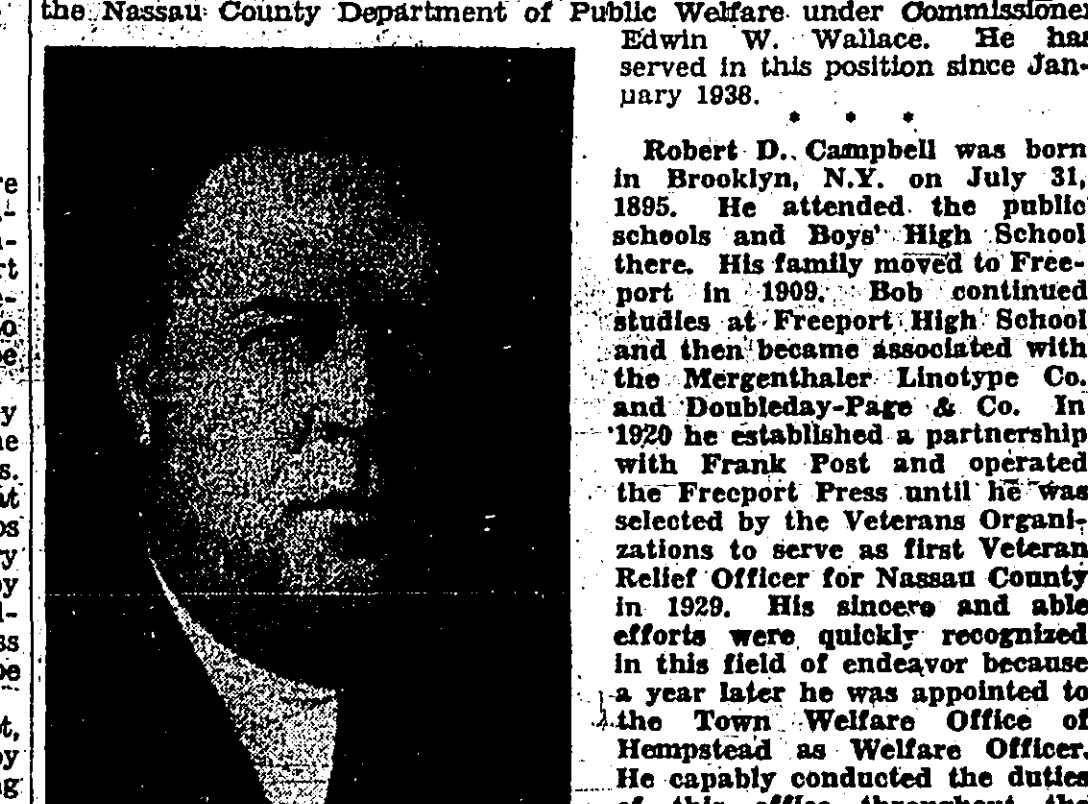

Mr. Clements is president of the Rotary Club of Freeport and a member of the Village Planning Commission. He is a past worthy patron of Freeport Chapter, O.E.S., and has headed the Red Cross fund raising drives for two years. He is a successful business man and owner of Clements of Freeport, importers and manufacturers; adviser Baldwin-DeMolay Chapter, youth organization; Freeport Community Council, Freeport Chamber of Commerce, and for many years a member of the Board of Deacons of the Freeport Baptist Church.

I want to thank all who have co-operated with me in making THE LEADER the success it has been. Mr. Clements has asked me to continue in an editorial capacity with THE LEADER and I have agreed to do so. Consequently those who have been wont to telephone me the accounts of their meetings and other events and with whom such a friendly relationship has been established will still find me on the other end of the wire the next time they call up.

GEORGE W. GOELLER

Eddie Vasil INTRODUCES ... Robert D. Campbell

"A life-time devoted to helping those in need." That describes Robert D. Campbell, who has understandingly and capably served veterans and residents of the Town of Hempstead and Nassau County since 1921. Freeport is proud of his outstanding work as Deputy Commissioner of the Nassau County Department of Public Welfare under Commissioner Edwin W. Wallace. He has served in this position since January 1938.

ROBERT D. CAMPBELL

Office was abolished and the work consolidated with the present Nassau County Department of Welfare, he continued in his current position as Deputy Commissioner.

Bob Campbell is a modest, quiet and sincerely understanding public servant. However, he is a human dynamo of activity. He is not merely a member of organizations; he has always been an active participant. Bob's reputation in the field of welfare work has been recognized by the State of New York. From 1923 to 1930 he served as New York Veteran-Relief Commissioner for the First and Second Assembly Districts of Nassau County. He was a member of the Freeport Fire Department for twenty years and a captain of Hose Co. No. 1. Bob is one of the organizers and charter members of the William Clinton Story Post, American Legion; served as Commander in 1921, and was elected County Commander of the Nassau County American Legion. He was Drill Master of the famous "Freeport American Legion Drum Corps," which won championship honors.

In addition to Legion activities, the name of Robert Campbell has also been actively associated with the Republican Party. He served as president of the Freeport Republican Club (1935-'36), and also as a Republican Committeeman in his election district. He is also a member of the Freeport Lodge of Elks, Spartan Lodge F. & A.M., Northwest Civic Association, and several professional societies connected with his work. The Robert Campbells (formerly Marie B. Mahan) recently celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary. They reside at 73 W. Lincoln Place with their son, Robert, and daughter, Jeann.

The duties of the Nassau County Welfare Department are comparable to those of the leading cities of the nation. Since Nassau leads the country in expansion and population increase, so there has the work of this very important department increased. Commissioner Edwin W. Wallace has a very efficient staff headed by Deputy Commissioner Campbell. The Welfare Department's record of service is of the highest calibre. "A life-time devoted to helping those in need." Robert D. Campbell

Gifts to County P.B.C. Won't Help Local Group

The Freeport Police Boys Club is not affiliated with the Nassau County Police Boys Club which is conducting its annual fund raising drive. Despite this fact, Freeport residents have been circled by the County organization with appeals for contributions.

Consequently Freeporters should bear in mind that not one cent given in response to this appeal will go to the Freeport P.B.C., and act accordingly. The local organization which is doing such an excellent job, is in need of the financial support of the people of Freeport, as it is dependent on entirely in adequate appropriations made by the Village Board and the State.

Just now friends of the P.B.C. are soliciting contributions to a fund with which to purchase a station wagon for the use of Patrolman Joseph Romelka, the director. This is to be used in transporting members of the P.B.C. to various events. Contributions may be sent to Patrolman Romelka, who is at headquarters in the Municipal Building.

To Give the Address
Reception to Follow

Rabbi Reuben M. Katz will be formally installed as rabbi of Congregation B'nai Israel Sunday night at exercises in the Temple on Broadway.

The installation ceremony will be conducted by Rabbi Saul Tepitz, of the Lauderbrook Jewish Center. The invocation will be pronounced by Rabbi Harry Schwartz, of Temple Beth Israel, Hempstead, and the benediction given by Rabbi Philip Miller, of the Baldwin Jewish Centre. Cantor Harry Altman, of the Congregation will chant the musical parts of the services.

Dr. Simon Greenberg, acting president of the Jewish Theological Seminary, will give the principal address. A plaque will be given to Rabbi Simon Noveck, associate rabbi of the Park Avenue Synagogue, Manhattan, in recognition of his efforts during his tenure as rabbi of the congregation from 1946 to 1949.

All arrangements for the occasion are under the supervision of George Maisien, a former president of the congregation.

Born In New York City
Rabbi Reuben Katz was born in New York City and graduated from Brooklyn College in 1941, where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree. The Jewish Theological Seminary, in 1944, graduated Rabbi Katz with the degree of Master of Hebrew Literature.

During 1944, Rabbi Katz served as assistant rabbi of Hor Zion Congregation in Philadelphia, Pa., under supervision of Dr. Greenberg.

During 1945 as associate rabbi of Temple Israel, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Rabbi Katz made himself known and liked in that community. However, at the end of that year, he received a call and appointment to Congregation Beth El at Akron, Ohio, where he came to serve as head rabbi until called to Freeport.

Cut in Mail Service Is Started by Rice; One Daily Delivery

Windows to Open Hour
Later, and Collections
From Boxes are Changed

Curtalement of mail service in Freeport has been started by Postmaster Edward A. Rice, but it will be some weeks before the full effects of carrying out the economy order from Washington will be known. Residential areas are to have but one delivery a day and the hours on some routes will be much different than at present.

Effective May 23, the registry, inquiry, general delivery, stamp sales and parcel post windows will be opened at 9 o'clock instead of 7 A.M., and they will close Saturdays at noon instead of 1 o'clock. Other days the closing hours will be 8 A.M., as at present. The hours of collections from the mail boxes are to be changed and Second, Third and Fourth class matter will be handled only during regular business hours.

Under the new set-up the number of postal routes in the village will be reduced from 26 to 20, which will account for the delay in mail deliveries in some sections. Economies also will be possible by the elimination of substitute carriers and clerks in the post office. Just how much will be saved in the overhead of the post office no one was able to say, according to Postmaster Rice.

Post Master Rice's Statement
"In accordance with the instructions of the Post Office Department," Postmaster Rice said today, "effective immediately, patrons in the residential sections may expect but one delivery of mail on weekdays, Monday to Saturday inclusive. Deliveries in some residences will be at different times than those previously in effect. The Post Office Department, recognizes that patrons would prefer deliveries at their homes during the early morning hours but the economic necessity of providing only one delivery trip of daily makes it impossible to grant this convenience. Because of the need of a revision of the delivery service in order to place in effect the one delivery per day plan, it may be some time before the system is completely operative. However, it will be in operation in all sections of the village on or before July 1."

As a further economy the morning collection service from letter boxes between 6:00 A.M. and 7:30 A.M. will be discontinued and a collection will be made between (Continued on Page 3)

Police Save the Life Of William D. Somers

Mrs. William D. Somers, 280 South Ocean ave., today asked THE LEADER to express her appreciation of the efforts of the Freeport police who succeeded in saving the life of her husband after he had been stricken with a heart attack shortly after midnight of March 28.

When the family physician was detained some what in responding to a call, Mrs. Somers telephoned the police. Sgt. Raymond Knipe, and Patrolmen Frederick Montross and Claude Reynor were quickly on the scene with an inhalator and supply of oxygen. Dr. Bernard R. Markowitz followed shortly. Under his directions the police applied first aid treatment for two hours and kept out for an oxygen tent under which Mr. Somers was placed. He is recovering from the attack in his home where he is undergoing complete rest. Mr. Somers is one of the leaders in the fishing industry in this country both as a designer and manufacturer.

Appleton's Corner

By NORMAN APPLETON

Joe maneuvered his way in and out the many rows of hardware with the skill of a taxi driver—no small wonder considering that Joe is a taxi driver, Freeport's best.

He helped Joe carry some of his bundles out front to his cab. When Joe finishes with his weekly shopping expedition on my stock diminishes greatly.

Joe was wiping his brow. It was one of those really warm spring days—the first of the season.

He turned to me and sighed, "Boy, this is one hot day."

I laughed and replied, "This is spring—Joe—it's spring—"

Joe gave me one of those funny looks and laughed along with me. "Spring nothing—it's just plain hot," he said.

I guess to most people Joe is just the fellow up front driving the cab—but I don't think you can drive a hack without being something of a philosopher. A good Cabbie is a combination of many things.

No wonder after all the stories they hear.

Joe turned to me and seriously said, "I guess this spring stuff means many things to people. To me it means one thing—you go driving down street after street and the sounds everywhere are the same."

He laughed a little self-consciously now and went on, "I guess I'm just a plain guy." Thoughtfully he added, "Everywhere you see them fixed and banging away with hammers—I guess that's what spring means to me. Like the smell of fresh paint from one end of the town to the other."

Joe seemed to be looking out at though taking in the whole of Freeport. Then with a broad gesture of his hand, he continued, "It's a funny thing—about this town—every year and practically at the same time—the whole town wakes up with a bang. On every block you can see them fixing and sweeping and painting. I ought to know—I'm up and down these streets every day of my life."

"Would you live anywhere else—Joe?" I asked.

"Not for all the tea in China. This is my town and if it was up to me—you know what I'd do—I'd build a tremendous archway right in the middle of the town." Then as an afterthought, he added, "and I'd print right across the top of it—'Thru these portals pass the nicest people in the world—the people of Freeport.'"

Freeport P. B. C. Red Letter Day, When Virginia Mayo Awarded Cup

Perhaps the red letter day for the members of the Freeport Police Boys Club was the day the ystaged an outboard soapbox derby off Guy Lombardo's East Point House before the admiring eyes of Virginia Mayo, star of "The Girl from Jones Beach," in July of last year.

"Virginia was in Freeport for the premier of her film and Warner Bros. the producers invited the boys to put on the exhibition with a trophy going to the winner. News-reel cameramen took shots as Miss Mayo presented the cup to the winners, with a kiss to boot, and the pictures were shown in theatres throughout the United States and Canada.

"The meet off Lombardo's was only one of a series carried out throughout the summer for a trophy donated by Joseph VanBlerck, the speed racing enthusiast. The boys built their own craft which Guy Lombardo himself pronounced 'good—but good.' The races were covered by full safety rules.

This Hollywood type of event, however, was just a day in the life of Patrolman Joseph Romelka director and sparkplug of the Freeport P.B.C.

Then when a boy was drowned in a creek because he over-rated his swimming ability, an anonymous donor put up the money for a "learn to swim" campaign as a result of which many boys received instruction in the Casino Pool and sent well on their way towards life-saving awards.

"These are typical examples of the work which the P.B.C. is doing for the youth of Freeport and why it deserves the support of all who are interested in the welfare of our young lads," said an official. "But it takes money to keep these programs going. In spite of the grant which the Village makes to augment the funds which the club receives from the State, there is still need of additional money to cope with the activities resulting from a steadily growing membership.

"Any local organization which is good enough to make even the film colony sit up and take notice is surely worth the active interest of our local people. Why not send a contribution now to the Freeport Police Boys' Club, Box 167, Freeport? It will be used wisely and profitably in the sole interests of the 600 lads for whom the Club is already doing so much."

$730,067 Budget Adopted by Board; Tax Rate is $1.52

Speakers at Hearing Merely Ask Questions; Smith Explains Items

The Village Board at the conclusion of its hearing Thursday night adopted the 1950-51 budget as outlined exclusively in The Leader, in its issue of that day. The next budget totals $730,067.55, carrying a tax rate of $1.52 for each $100 of assessed valuation, a drop of 6 points from that of the year just closed.

Speakers at the hearing confined themselves to asking questions concerning various items which were answered by Trustee Leonard D. B. Smith. In every instance Mr. Smith's answer seemed to satisfy the person seeking information.

It developed at the hearing that beginning March 1, 1951, the policy of reimbursing members of the Zoning Board of Appeals and Park Commission at the rate of $300 a year for their services will be resumed. Members of these groups and the Sewer Commission were paid at this rate until 1943 when compensation for all except the members of the Sewer Commission was discontinued. A year's notice has to be given before payment of "salaries" to various boards can be started.

Mayor Robert L. Dossie presided at the hearing. The gross budget totals $122,882.24, while receipts anticipated from sources other than taxation are estimated at $499,814.59 reducing the net budget to $730,067.55.

To Glamorize Clams For Archer St. P.-T.A. Once Freeport Industry

Freeporters probably will be told some little known facts about their own balliwick when Ivan T. Sanderson, author, lecturer and radio personality, speaks at the monthly meeting of the Archer St. School Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday night in the school auditorium.

Mrs. David Moltrop, the program chairman, has announced Mr. Sanderson's topic as "We Grow Together in the Enjoyment of Nature," to which he has appended "Right in Your Own Backyard." To gather information he spent a day and a night getting local facts from Mayor Robert L. Dossie about one of Freeport's former industries—clams. So he is expected to put glamor in clams, glamor and adventure and incidentally an excellent story of industry.

"It's big business, very big—1,320,000 clams are shucked every week," he said. "Further clams are not stupid nor do they arrive at a destination accidentally, but that's another story."

"Yes," Mr. Sanderson added, "even the shell is used for Bob Dossie has reinforced Point Lookout's sea wall, which was sagging, with millions of clam shells that now form a wall holding back the sea from encroaching on the beach." Mr. Sanderson began a life of travel and nature study at the age of five and has been going strong ever since. He has been to every corner of the globe and has plenty to talk about.

Duo-Pianists, Enthrall At Concluding Concert

Arthur Whittemore and Jack Lowe, duo-pianists, closed the Freeport Community Concert Association season with a performance in the high school auditorium Tuesday night that had a large audience spellbound. Encore followed encore and the people just would not let the artists go. As a result, many signed up for the 1950-51 concert series before leaving the building.

The piano-duo opened the program with three selections, the coronation scene from "Boris Godunov," by Modest Moussorgsky; Melody from "Orfeo," by Christoph Willibald Gluck; and "Valse Nohles," Op. 77 by Franz Schubert. They next played variations on a theme of J. S. Bach, Op. 81, as arranged by Max Reger. Their concluding numbers were three waltzes by Richard Rogers, "Lover" from "Love Me Tonight," "Falling in Love With Love" from "The Boys from Syracuse," and "Wonderful Guy" from "South Pacific." Claude Debussy's "Clair de Lune," Aaron Copland's "Celebration Dance," "Bully, the Kid," and Manuel Rosenthal's "La Belle Zelle."

And there were encore too numerous to mention.

Freeport High School Musicians Make Good With Noted Orchestras

Many students of Freeport High School who were members of the band and orchestra have made good in some of the leading musical organizations of the country following their graduation.

Among such was Fred Ohms, who within two years after his graduation was first chair trombone player in Fred Waring's Orchestra. He started on the violin and played this for seven years before he turned to the trombone. Fred was equally proficient on both. While in school Fred was the concertmaster, and in this band he was the trombone soloist.

Chubby Jackson, jazz musician, also got his start in F.H.S. He is now a leader in the new jazz medium called Be Bop. In Hawaii Steve Fritsch, flutist, and his wife the former Joyce Burkhard, French horn player, both former band members, now play in the Honolulu symphony orchestra. In Hollywood, Bill Jones, trumpeter, is making musical arrangements for big Hollywood musical films. He arranged the orchestration for "This Is The Army".

Miss Jean Tierney, former bassoonist in the F.H.S. band and orchestra, is a member of the Fort Wayne (Indiana) Symphony Orchestra.

Kenny Reed, a 1948 graduate, Freeport High's Hammond Organ star, now plays background music on television. John Mansperger, 1949 graduate, former tuba player is attending the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. John's vast collection of phonograph records and fine sound reproducing equipment have made him more or less of a big wheel on the campus. He is in charge of the record concerts given in his dormitory, Greene House, and also supplies the local university-operated radio station with many records for its broadcasts. He uses his sound equipment for the record concerts for square dances and other special affairs.

Gary Wilmott's Puppets On Display in Library

Another contains the colorfully costumed puppets used for the script of Gary's adaptation of Ruskin's fairy tale.

The artistic and mechanical aspects of this art are seen in other exceptional puppets. In this group there are two caricatured hand puppet heads carved from wood by Henry Brochwold, contemporary German puppeteer, a Clippo manufactured by Virginia Austin, the creator of Mortimer Snurd and an American-made shadow puppet.

The creation of puppet heads from plaster of Paris molds and the intricacy of body construction can be seen in this display. Gary Wilmott, whose puppet theatre group "The Wilmott Marionettes" has given many performances, has received recognition and much publicity for his talented productions. He first became interested in puppets when he was only seven years old. At the present time, Gary is a student at Adelphi College where he also instructs courses in puppetry on Saturdays at the Children's Theatre.

New Device Speeds Telephone Service

Multi-Frequency Key-Pulsing Method Used In Freeport-8 Calls

A new method of connecting telephone calls termed "multi-frequency key-pulsing" is giving many residents in the Freeport area faster telephone service. W. B. Billmeyer, New York Telephone Company Manager said today.

The method audibly transmits telephone numbers by means of electronic sound over regular talking channels and cuts down the time it takes to connect a telephone call. Mr. Billmeyer added.

"When you make a telephone call from Freeport 8 to Wantagh 2, for example, you may hear the sounds," he said. "If you are calling, say Wantagh 2-2694, you give the number to the operator. Near her right hand is a key-board with ten buttons on it. Each button is numbered and lettered, much as the dial on a telephone. She pushes down the buttons that make up Wantagh 2-2694, you hear a series of musical tones and the telephone you are calling starts to ring.

"Every button on the key-board is connected with two of a series of six vacuum tube oscillators. When a button is pushed down, the two tubes connected with it give out a high tone which is sent out over the telephone wires. At the other end of the line, special equipment changes the sound back to letters and numbers again, and the connection is made."

Multi-frequency key-pulsing, a post-war development in the telephone company's continuous program of expansion and improvement, is in operation in 17 Long Island central offices including Freeport 8, Wantagh 2, Fieldstone 7, Floral Park 4, Franklin 4, Glen Cove 4, Great Neck 2, Long Beach 6, Lynbrook 3 and 9, Rockville Centre 6, Roslyn 3, Farmingdale 2, Hempstead 2, Hicksville 3 and 5 and Westbury 7.

Talent scheduled to perform for the benefit includes: Cab Calloway and his orchestra, Earl Fisher, the Mariners, quartet on Arthur Godfrey's television show; Joan Roberts, star of Oklahoma; Ray Heatherton, star and producer of the "Look Here" television show; Eileen Barton, who introduced "If I Knew You Were Coming I'd Have Baked a Cake"; Joyce Matthews, (Mrs. Milton Berle), Norman Brokenshire, NBC announcer and the Janette Hackett Broadway Rockets, all-girl chorus from Milton Berle's show.

"More talent will be announced later," according to Earl Fisher, chairman of the Theatre Wing for the campaign, and producer of the show. Mrs. Bennett Minton, Jr., 22 Fearsall ave., Freeport 9-8132, is in charge of the sale of tickets in this village.

Sea Scout 285 Charter Presented Legion Group

Sea Scout Ship 285, sponsored by William-Clinton-Story Post, A.L., received a renewal of its charter from the Nassau County Boy Scout Council at the semi-monthly meeting Friday night in the dugout. Capt. Fred Lickman turned the document over to Commander Kenneth E. Vought, who accepted it. Henry Kranz is chairman of the Sea Scout committee of the post. Membership Chairman Oscar Pultz reported the post still considerably shy of its 750 quota and announced that the campaign to boost the figure to that mark would be continued right up to the annual convention to be held on Friday and Saturday, June 23 and 24. Past Commander Gerald Robson was named chairman of nominating committee which will submit a slate for consideration at the next meeting.

Delegates to the 1949 convention will meet in Bellmore, Friday night, May 5, for the Second District caucus to agree on candidates to be submitted to the county convention. C. Howard Larsen, of William-Clinton-Story post and Frederick Bertram, of Hempstead, are both aspirants for the nomination as commander.

Curtailment of Postal Service

When Uncle Sam decides to give a demonstration of economy, he usually selects some division of the government which will hit the most people. Right now the Post Office Department has been selected for such a demonstration which will curtail service throughout the nation.

Residential areas in Freeport are to be reduced to a one delivery a day basis, with a prospect that mail will be delivered almost anytime during the day. Window service is to be started an hour later in the morning, so people desiring stamps must wait until 8 o'clock instead of procuring them at 7 as in the past. Collections from boxes are to be made later in the morning and earlier in the afternoon and all in all the economy wave is going to prove a serious blow to the village.

While the government spends billions of dollars in supporting the prices of farm products, thus keeping the prices for consumers up and forcing taxpayers to foot the bill for bonds and interest required to meet the doles handed out to farmers, it cuts down the postal service to avoid a deficit that pales into insignificance compared with the grants for purchasing surplus potatoes and other crops to be destroyed.

Economy is sadly needed in bureaucratic Washington and there are thousands of ways in which it can be brought about by curtailments in many agencies besides the Postal Department. Perhaps next November the voters of the country will realize a change is due and vote accordingly.

The Leader Bookshelf

By MRS. ELIZABETH F. KELLY
Librarian, Freeport Memorial Library

"The setting of 'World and Paradise' by Edgar Maass is that of the 'Thirty Years' War—from 1629 on. Rosanna is living at the Moravian settlement of which Karl, II and helpless, is brought. Their lives touch frequently over the years. As a soldier, Karl does not stay in any one place and Rosanna has a seeking soul. Rosanna knows little of her own background but when she finally comes to Nuremberg, she is quite certain she knows her way to a certain house, and has a vivid recollection of the interior of that home."

Days of intrigue, movement of troops, details of the old customs and costumes, an ardent love story, traveling players, a plague, visits to the astronomer to ask guidance from the stars, life in the ghetto, all these are told by the well-known author of "The Queen's Physician" in his latest book "World and Paradise."

"Our Eastern Playgrounds" by Anthony F. Merrill is almost a "must" for anyone who is planning a trip along the eastern seaboard of our country. This book will be especially valuable to those who enjoy camping.

Listed by states in their position from North to South, the book's first locates on a map, then in a write-up covers such information as "Location and Approaches," "Features and Facilities," "on particularly every State forest, State park, and National forest and National park in that area. The cost of hunting and fishing licenses and address to which to write for further information is also included. There is a detailed index in the back of "Our Eastern Playgrounds." If your vacation isn't already planned, this book may help.

This is the time of the year when it is always interesting to read books of country living. Though we do not usually associate the name of Elsworth Thane with such a book, yet her latest "Reluctant Farmer" is just that.

She and her husband, the famous naturalist, Dr. William Beebe, found it difficult during the war to go to their home in Bermuda. Nor was it easy to get back and forth to the English countryside. So they bought the old farm in southern Vermont, thinking it would be just a summer place. Then they learned it had an excellent sugar bush and wasn't it wasteful not to gather the sap and make the syrup? That meant the old sugar bushes had to be repaired, equipment had to be bought, buckets had to be painted, etc. and etc. etc. Much of it was hard work, much of it was fun, at least they made it such.

And then there was the old barn—winter it had to be propped up and of course the barn was needed if they were to put anything back into the soil and cut hay. It had an excellent view of the lake and develop a slitting-work room out there? Does one usually have bees on a farm?

Elsworth Thane also tells much in regard to their pet bird, Chee-Wee, and of the other wild birds taken in and cared for until they were able to fly and take care of themselves. Canary-lovers will enjoy the many things she has to say about them.

Throughout the book "Reluctant Farmer," our author is very frank about costs, giving prices and where such can be obtained. A delightful book with which to while away these coolish evenings until Spring and gardening are really here.

VASIL'S VARIETIES

By Eddie Vasil

Headlines: YO-YO'S, LIPSTICK, TV AND TANGO FOR NATIVES OF DILLYLAND
Multi-million $ U.S. Program to develop undeveloped country. Many other projects planned by Washington world-benefactors while the American people prepare to revert to "Pony Express" mail system. Isn't that foolish? The citizens of the United States have always been proud and have always respected the postal service and its employees. During the war years when others were coining big dough, they received their same modest wages. We expect nothing, including the elements, to disrupt the service, and the postman coming twice has become an American institution. But the scourge of politics has caused a bombshell to be dropped and the system to be soured. But citizens are voters, and the votes are power; the Washington big-shot should know this. Let's remind them. Write to your Senator and Congressman protesting the change in the postal service. DO IT NOW.

EDDIE'S NOTES
A night to remember: June 4th at the Stadium. The Freeport High School championship team plays the 1928 Nassau County Champs. (Harry Chusano, Bill Glacken, Ed Gregorvitch, Fred Troutwine, Al De Martini, Larry Heenan, Bennie Minton and Dan Cronin). Proceeds go to the Freeport Police Boys Clubs. . . All youth programs are good, but don't confuse the Nassau County PBC drive with the Freeport Police Boys Clubs when donating. . . JOE ROMILKA's group need your help very much and many thanks for the money they have donated for the purchase of the donations. (They are two separate organizations). . . What municipal petty employee is not making for goodwill for Freeport with the merchants with his self-styled tactics? There are two ways to do one's duty. (The better way leaves a pleasant taste.)

OFF THE CUFF
Disregard that sign on W. Merrick rd. entrance to Parking Field No. 5 "For Patrons Only." This is a public parking field. . . DANNY CARTER (People's Taxi, S. Main st.) off for Chattanooga, Tenn. (Business and pleasure.) Clinton "Tex" Mahoney holds the local fort. . . Musician JACK KAHN returned from Miami looking like an ad for sun-tan lotions. (His So. Biggest surprise for the parents: fathers: LOU MANDEL'S "Toyland" (Plaster's) is really a department store for everything needed for the coming little guest. (Lou's a big help in suggesting to those who are impatiently ignorant about such things.)

DURVEA ORCHID CREATION
This week's flowery token of public commendation is awarded to the wife of a local businessman and sportsman for her husband's achievements: Starting from scratch and with only the help of his charming wife, he built a used car lot into an automobile empire. Together, actually doing manual work, they converted a beautiful home on West Sunrise Hwy. which became their headquarters of operation. Not too long ago, he entered a 2 M. competitive field, and because of sincere interest, perseverance and personal participation, he forged ahead to be recognized as a champion. It's a pleasure to award the DURVEA ORCHID to MRS. GEORGE SARANT for her husband's fine record in speed-boat racing. Congratulations to you both.

TID-BITS
The CHAMBER OF COMMERCE toying with a good idea for added revenue to Freeport. (Do they also have another surprise in the sports field?) . . . RUDY'S RESTAURANT (Woodcliff ave.) was the scene for Chuck Jack's annual fishing award stinking. Louis Kallberger, (14 year veteran proprietor) acted as host. (One of the friendliest and most sociable we've ever met.) The gathering was representative of the group of sportsmen who enjoy our waterfront: clean cut and fun-loving. They leave wealth and titles at the docks and every one becomes a regular guy. Freeport's fishing boats and the waterfront are better than Frisco's much-heralded Fisherman's Wharf.

Christian Science

"Everlasting Punishment" is the lesson-sermon subject for Sunday at 11 A.M. in the First Church of Christ, Elm pl. at West Merrick rd. The golden text is "Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded" (James 4:8).

The sermon will be from Jonah 3:1, 2, 4, 5 and 10, King James version.

Violinist in Recital At Annual Guest Night Before Large Audience

There was a large turnout for the recital given by Alfred Bruening, violinist, visiting artist at the annual guest night of the Chopin Club of Freeport in the home of Mrs. Cornelius VanRees, 146 Wallace st.

Mr. Bruening played the three movements of Mozart's Concerto in D, Brahms' Sonata in A, "Poems" by Chausson, and Kreisler's "La Ginta," for his first group, followed by "La Plus Que Lente," by Debussy, "La Chaffie," by Kreisler, and "Fade," by Sarasate. Exceedingly liberal with his response to encores, Mr. Bruening gave "Alt Wien," by Godowsky, "Caprice Vien Nois," by Kreisler and "Spanish Serenade," by Chaminade. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hilda Brown and presented by Mrs. Thomas M. Cann, the program chairman.

Mrs. William J. Mermann, the president, greeted the members and their guests.

Mr. Bruening, a resident of Garden City, is a graduate of the Curtis School of Music, Philadelphia, where he studied under Leo Lubatshutz, and the Juillard Graduate School, where his teacher was Edward Dethier. He is now studying under Max Rostal. He has served as concert master of the New York Philharmonic Society and was soloist of the New Orleans Symphony while in the Army. He also was a winner of one of Arthur Godfrey's talent scout broadcasts.

'Feeding Problems'

Pre-School Group Topic

"Feeding Problems" was the subject considered at the monthly meeting of the Pre-School Section of the Seaman Ave. School Parent-Teacher Association in the school. The feature was a skit, "Table Manners or Teachers" with Mrs. Oliver U. Reynolds, Mrs. Glenn E. Brown and Mrs. Robert Outler in the cast. Mrs. Oscar Magnusson, parent education chairman of the Long Island District of the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers, led an informative discussion on the subject of feeding young children.

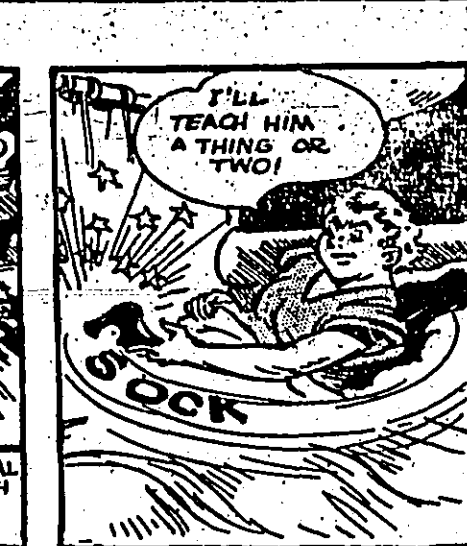

"Mrs. Angelo Amatulli was elected vice-chairman of the group; Mrs. Edgar E. Mapes, recording secretary; Mrs. Harold Brown, treasurer,

Crescendo Club

Marks Guest Night

Jane Knox Fenyo and Myron Leslie Heard; Juniors on Program

Jane Knox Fenyo, pianist, and Myron Leslie, cellist, appeared at the annual guest night of the Crescendo Club in the home of Mrs. H. Carlyle Voss, 276 Randall ave., Thursday night. Members of the junior and senior groups participated in the program.

Marguerite Porter Hibbard opened the program with a piano selection, "Etude Melodique" by Maurice Moszkowski. Then four members of the junior club, ranging in age from 9 to 11, formed an ensemble and played two numbers, "Bay Breezes" and "Merry-Malids," in such finished fashion they amazed their elders. The quartet comprised Carlyle Voss, first violin; Barbara Blass, second violin; Kay Gardner, flute, and Joyce Yarrow, clarinet. They were directed and accompanied by Mrs. Voss.

A string trio, made up of Mrs. Sylvia Hicks, violinist; Mrs. Myron Leslie, violist, and Mr. Leslie, played Dohrnay's "Serenade." Mrs. Voss, pianist, gave an original fantasy, "Andante Idyll," and Mrs. Fenyo concluded the evening's festivities by playing "Festive Dance" by Paul Kresten, "Anniversary No. 3," by Leonard Bernstein, and "Piano Sonata," by Aaron Copeland, all ultra modern numbers.

Mrs. Everett Thayer, the president, and Mrs. Karl Gardner, presided at the tea table during the social hour. Mrs. Hugh M. Jackson, program chairman was in charge of the evening's activities.

Business Women Hear Of Health Insurance

Mrs. N. F. Robbins Says
Measure Wouldn't Aid
In Improving Health

Mrs. Nathaniel F. Robbins, of the speakers bureau of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Nassau County Medical Society and past president of its health committee was guest speaker at the April meeting of the Business Women of Freeport held in the Brandywine.

In her approach to the conflicts between proponents of government health insurance and members of the medical profession and other groups, Mr. Robbins endeavored to clarify the issues for members to decide for themselves what steps are needed to improve the health of the people.

As living and working conditions have improved steadily for many years, so has the health of the American people and the life span has increased 20 years, Mrs. Robbins said. She particularly emphasized the excellent county public health department and the clinics and other services which the doctors themselves have made available.

Since the government health insurance program would be financed by payroll deduction, users would be paying for it the same as they do for other forms of health insurance, she asserted. It would be available only in case of sickness and therefore would not be a measure to improve the health of the American people, Mrs. Robbins contended.

"If you feel the issue is important and really want to do something about it, then you should write your representatives in Washington because they are confused and want to see that the health interests of the people are protected," the speaker continued. Mrs. Agnes License, president, presided. Attending were Mrs. Anna Fritz, Nellie License and Gladys Derrick and Mrs. Amelia Kelly, Mrs. Christine Edwards, Mrs. Isabel Tree, Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly, Mrs. Ann Bassler, Mrs. Agnes License, Mrs. Carrie Mock, Mrs. Katherine Gaynor, Mrs. Florence Ramsey, Mrs. Marguerite Johnson, Mrs. Beatrice Hyman and Mrs. Sallie Buckley.

Rehabilitation Program Displayed in Washington

The rehabilitation program of the Nassau County Tuberculosis and Public Health Association is being presented at the National Tuberculosis Association's annual meeting being held in the Statler Hotel in Washington, D.C. ending tomorrow.

In a dramatic exhibit, visitors at the conference may see how the Nassau County rehabilitation program aids discharged tuberculosis patients in their readjustment to a normal living schedule. Each phase of the program is represented by a wheel which can be turned by visitors and which shows how the various phases of the program intermesh. The wheels represent medical aspects concerning patient guidance given by the rehabilitation counselor, vocational tests, training for a new job and placement of the patient in a job in accordance with his medical limitations.

Former Mayor Cyril C. Ryan unveiled a memorial tablet he had presented and gave the principal address at the dedication of the Atlantic ave. clubhouse of Henry Theodore Mohr Post, V.F.W., last Saturday night.

The tablet reads: "In memory of our departed comrades who died that we might live a free people."

Introduced by commander Dominic Pellicio, the former mayor stressed the need of a strong leadership among its members, and commended the work it was doing.

Village Trustee Leonard D. B. Smith also spoke briefly. The exercises were in charge of Commander Pellicio and George Tomko.

The building taken over as a clubhouse by the post, has been materially improved by the members. Members of the auxiliary served refreshments.

Joint installation exercises will be held by the post and auxiliary in Fire Headquarters, North Main st., Saturday night. County officers will induct the members of the post, and Mrs. Mabel Moore, a past local and county president, will officiate for the auxiliary.

Huge Production at Freeport Theatre

The mighty Samson (Victor Mature) succumbs to the charms of Delilah (Hedy Lamarr) just as any man would. The two have the title roles in "Samson and Delilah," Cecil B. DeMille's technicolor masterpiece which is now playing at Century's Freeport Theatre.

Artists Guild Members Exhibit in England

Four members of the Baldwin Artists Guild, including two Freeport residents, are exhibiting paintings in a show sponsored by the Triangle Art Club of North Staleis, England. The display was opened with a tea last Sunday.

The exhibitors are Mrs. Frances Bedell, of Freeport; Mrs. Jacqueline Ritchie, of Massapequa, and Mrs. Dorothy Bartholomew, of Baldwin.

FREEPORTERS ON Juries
Freeport residents called for trial jury service beginning Monday in Mineola are:

Supreme Court - Charlotte DeMalo, Edward J. Forker, Harry M. Mason, Mildred McGinley and Harold W. Phillips.

County Court - Paul DeMalo, Daniel J. Goldner, George M. Nixon, Isabel T. O'Neill and Harry A. Watson.

15 Years of Research For "Samson and Delilah"

According to Cecil B. DeMille, whose Paramount production in technicolor, "Samson and Delilah," now playing at the Freeport Theatre, times haven't changed much in 3,000 years.

DeMille, who spent almost fifteen years researching the pre-Christian era to get the "feel" of his new picture, has bobbed up with the intelligence that the folks of 1200 B.C. had two familiar beefs: taxes and the high cost of living!

"The people of the village of Dan, not far from present day Gaza, believed even louder than the taxpayer of today," says DeMille. "Ninety-five per cent of their crops were taken from them, even before they had a chance to convert them into money. The government was in the hands of the Pharaohs, and the people believed to have come from Egypt."

Peppiatt's Near Title In Commercial League

Feather-bedding scheme of Firemen's Union to put an additional fireman on diesel locomotives has been CONSIDERED TWICE!

Fact Finding Boards appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman have said these demands were "devoid of merit" and they were REJECTED TWICE!

Now the Firemen's leaders seek to paralyze railroad transportation to compel the railroads to employ a wholly unnecessary additional fireman to ride on diesel locomotives. This scheme is plain

FEATHER-BEDDING!

LEADERS of the Firemen's union have called a nationwide strike starting with four great railroads on April 26. These railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a Presidential Fact Finding Board on May 21, 1948, reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second Board reported to President Truman that: "there presently exist no need for an additional fireman... upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency and economy of operation."

Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good

Although the railroads accepted the Board findings, the union leaders have brazenly rejected them. They represent that an extra fireman is needed for "safety" reasons. Here's what the Board had to say on that point:

"The safety and on-time performance of diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules have been notably good..."

"Upon careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the Brotherhood proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

he real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding." The railroads have no intention of yielding to these wasteful make-work demands.

"The Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good..."

PRESIDENTIAL FACT FINDING BOARD REPORT
Read these excerpts from official reports of Presidential Fact Finding Boards:

"The safety record of Diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable have produced good results."

"The safety and on-time performance of Diesel-electric locomotives operated under current rules indicate that Diesel-electric operation has been safer than steam locomotive operation..."

Remember! These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of the many similar conclusions reached by Presidential Fact Finding Boards which spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.
